BRIEFING

We Mourn Zia

We mourn with the nation the death of President General Muhammad Zia-ul-Haq and share the grief of the bereaved family

It is always in times of tragedy and major crisis that our national feelings are the strongest. The nation in its short history has faced many grave situations and is once again standing at a crucial juncture. The illfated crash of the Lockheed C-130 which took the life of President General Muhammad Zia-ul-Haq and its other prestigious passengers shocked not only the nation but the world at large. Grief has been the foremost emotion in the heart of every citizen. SHE too mourns with the nation and shares the sorrows of the bereaved family at the death of President Zia-ul-Haq especially the manner of it. It is a time of mourning but also a time when we as a nation have to practice the Quaid's motto of unity, faith and discipline as never before.

We at SHE regret the publication of certain short stories which appeared in our recent issues and which may have offended some of our readers. This month we have endeavoured to bring out our SHE Man Supplement. How successful we have been is for you to decide. Our Man of Substance is young, versatile and definitely at the helm of the art scene. The Innovators from Lahore highlight the potential and success of our men of tomorrow. Looking and feeling good is also important to every man these days. Body Sculpting tells you how you can attain the elusive. Also, finally literature is being given its due in the country and its patron is Begum Saqiba Rahimuddin who is the guiding force behind Qalam Qabila and our Woman of Substance for the month. Yet another thought provoking article is on the International Islamic University, whose aim is to provide an Islamic vision for those engaged in education.

Fashions this month swerve from the traditional to the very trendy. Fashion Focus highlights the ups and downs of the everchanging hem line and all that's very new. Being in tune with fashions is no longer a strictly woman's affair. Men today are just as fashion conscious as the women. For the modern man we have some exclusive fashions. Man About Town Shirt Tales keep you up to date with all that's new and trendy.
